

Collaborators!

Exploding Cinema are organising a big show on Saturday 30th March 2019. This will be in an industrial ex-warehouse unit near South Bermondsey station. We're looking for installations, performers, experimenters, collaborators - if you'd like to participate in any way we'd love to have you on board!

The large venue offers us the ability to show expanded performance/installation/screen-based material in addition to our regular single/multi screen show.

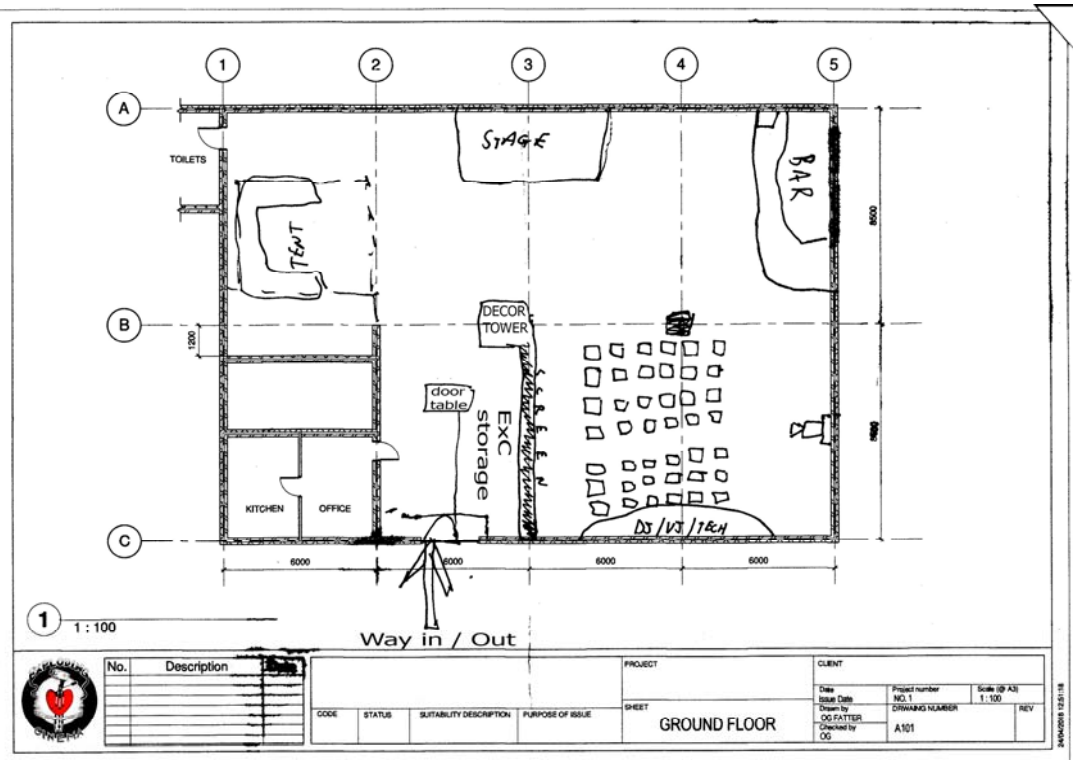

If you have a performance piece, workshop, installation, sculptural, spatial or other work that you'd like us to consider for this end-of-civilization show – then send us details.

We have access on the Friday 29th March so will set up as much kit as we can then. We'll run workshops 1400 - 1800 on the afternoon of Saturday the 30th, followed by performances, bands and film programmes 1800 – 0000 and some more experimental visual/DJ adventuring for the last two hours 00.00 - 02.00. De-rig on Sunday 31st.

If you are interested, please send an email with a description of your work/band/piece to explodingcinema@hotmail.com for more about Exploding Cinema, go to www.explodingcinema.org

We will be organising a recce of the venue for all interested contributors where you will be able to meet the Exploding team and ask any questions. Date TBC.
